KINGCOAT™ POWDER COATING

by King Luminaire

King Luminaire offers incredible powder coating options for StressCrete Group's top-quality products, as well as a variety of customers in industries outside of ours. We apply an extremely durable exterior polyester powder blend of non-volatile ingredients in a dry process, which is then fused into a continuous film through heat. This warranted coating provides an exceptional finish with a variety of color options, outstanding outdoor durability, and superior corrosion and barrier protection. To ensure the highest quality, our coatings undergo extensive Quality Control testing, including 4,000 hours of salt spray exposure.

For products installed in highly corrosive environments, such as seaside communities with salty air, we offer a Marine Grade primer. This protective layer helps maintain the integrity of our KingCoat™ colors, ensuring they stay vibrant and durable for years to come.

Our finishing options provide reliable protection, excellent chemical resistance, and superior hardness, all available in a wide range of colors. Depending on the color selection, finishes are offered in textured or smooth options, with custom color matching available to meet specific project needs.
